Subject: Brigade Transformation Battalion Headquarters, Ft. Riley, Kansas

To Whom It May Concern:

E & K of Omaha, Inc. was the subcontractor for all metal stud framing, interior and exterior, drywall, acoustical and grid ceilings for the Brigade Transformation project. Throughout the project, E & K made every effort to complete all their scopes ahead of schedule while maintaining very high quality requirements. Working with the Corps of Engineers can be challenging, but E & K works hard to understand the process and complete each project as required. That is the reason we continue to use them on our projects.

The E & K supervisory personnel both on and off the jobsite communicate professionally and effectively to understand the project requirements and goals. E & K completed their portion of work on schedule and within the quality standards set out by the Corps of Engineers.

Based on their work on the Brigade Transformation Headquarters, I can certainly recommend E & K of Omaha, Inc. for any project.

Sincerely,
